NATIONAL CANNERS ASSOCIATION

No. 1205

Washington, D. C.

October 9, 1948

Wholesale-Canner Contacts At Canners Convention

The National-American Wholesale Grocers has requested the National Canners Association to publicize the fact to its members that NAWGA's 1949 Convention at Atlantic City will adjourn the afternoon of Friday, January 14, at the close of the joint wholesale-canner program, and that wholesale grocers will therefore be looking for canners with whom to visit and confer on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, January 14, 15 and 16, respectively.

The grocers are staying over for the purpose of canner contacts particularly on those days. They arrive on January 11, hold their own convention program sessions through January 14, concluding with the joint grocer-canner program, and are scheduling their departure date from Atlantic City, for the most part, Sunday, January 16.

Home Economics Materials Being Mailed in Heavy Volume

With the beginning of the school year the Home Economics Division receives hundreds of requests for materials about canned foods. Heavy mail requests began coming in about September 10. For the remainder of the month an average daily request for approximately 8,900 pieces of educational material, recipes and general publications was received. During the 16 office days of this period a total of 142,600 pieces of material were requested. The largest portion of the material goes out in bulk mailings for classroom use. (Continued on p. 336)

N.C.A. at Florida Meeting

The season of State canner association meetings begins next week with the convention of the Florida Canners Association at St. Petersburg, October 14-16. The N.C.A. has been invited to take an active part in the Florida program. President Howard T. Cumming, Katherine Smith and Charles J. Tressler are to participate.

Symposium on Canned Foods Merchandising Scheduled For Important Session of 1949 Canners Convention

Merchandising of canned foods will be the subject of a symposium scheduled by the N.C.A. Convention Committee for the Second General Session of the 42nd Annual Canners Convention, Tuesday morning, January 18. Members of the Committee and officers have conferred for the past month on this matter, under

1948 Canners Directory Mailed This Week

The 1948 Canners Directory was mailed this week to all Association members. Listing all food canners in the United States and Territories, alphabetically by States and by each canner's home office or plant, and with a listing of commodities packed by each canner, the new Canners Directory, for the first time, designates canners who are N.C.A. members.

Canned Foods Price Story Given Additional Publicity

Newspaper clippings received by the Association this week show that price publicity prepared and issued by the N.C.A. is known to have been published in newspapers having a circulation of 3,642,799, not counting trade papers.

The paper with the largest circulation yet reported to have publicized the favorable price position of canned foods is the Chicago Daily News, having a circulation of 504,073, from which a clipping was received this week. A story on food prices in general, written by George Thiem, staff farm writer, opened with the information that canned fruits and vegetables are the consumer's best buy. The N.C.A. price story had been presented to the Daily News by Alvin H. Livingston & Co., a brokerage firm which had received the release through the National Food Brokers Association.

William J. Kiefer of Gibbs & Co., Inc., Baltimore, reported that the N.C.A. price story was sent by his office to 39 newspapers, and he sent the conviction that such a topic will be of paramount interest to each segment of the industry that will be in attendance at Atlantic City—canners, brokers, buyers and supplymen.

The Association has invited organizations representing each of the various distributing interests to designate the best-informed and most competent member to speak for about ten minutes on this subject. This would bring to the symposium expressions on merchandising from the following organizations:

National Canners Association, National Food Brokers Association, Super Market Institute, National Association of Food Chains, National-American Wholesale Grocers Association, National Association of Retail Grocers, and U. S. Wholesale Grocers

Each of these organizations has been invited to assign a speaker who will do a thorough preparation and make

Freight Absorption Hearings

Senator Homer Capehart (Ind.) announced this week that public hearings before the Trade Policies Committee, of which he is chairman, will be held in Washington beginning November 9.

The Senator said that the opening sessions of the public hearings would be confined largely to the testimony of witnesses from the Federal Trade Commission, and representative buyers and sellers of steel, sugar and cement. He said he was anxious to hear from steel buyers, since that was one of the first industries to change to f.o.b. mill pricing, and he wanted to learn the effect of this change on steel buyers.

PROCUREMENT

Mexican Canned Meat

The Department of Agriculture announced last week that contracts have been awarded to provide for purchase during the current fiscal year of 133,-200,000 pounds of Mexican canned meat and meat products for export to foreign countries.

Included in the 133,200,000 pounds are 118,000,000 pounds of canned meat and 15,200,000 pounds of canned edible meat by-products. The prices provided in the contracts, for delivery to the International border, are 28 cents a pound for the canned meat and 18 cents for canned edible meat by-products.

During the year ended June 30, 1948, purchases of canned meat in Northern Mexico totaled about 40 million pounds. So far, most of the meat purchased by USDA has been sold for civilian feeding in Europe. Minor amounts have gone to other foreign countries.

QMC Food Costs Cited

The basic cost of the Army's standard garrison ration—without adding any other expenses such as those incurred in procuring, shipping, storing, preparing, and serving—has been reported by the Quartermaster Corps to have risen from 40.61 cents per soldier per day in 1940 to an average of $1.03 in 1948. This is an increase of 254 percent.

The canning industry may take pride in pointing out that, according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, consumers paid only 158 percent of 1935-39 retail prices for canned fruits and vegetables during August.

Canned Foods Price Story

the N.C.A. clippings from the following papers which reproduced the story: New Orleans Item (87,809), Baltimore Afro-American (71,570), Mobile, Ala., Register (37,222), and Tampa Tribune (98,870).

W. H. Sherman of the Association of New York State Canners, Inc., who has reported wide distribution of the price story, reported that the Victor Food Corp., Victor, N. Y., cited the favorable price position of canned foods recently on its broadcast over WVET, Rochester.

Clippings of the price story also have been received from the Fredonia, N. Y., Censor (926), Ogdensburg, N. Y., Journal (5,479) and the Salem Oregon Statesman (11,437).

The Des Moines Tribune (150,764) published the price story after receiving the N.C.A. release from Cartan & Jeffrey Co., members of NFBA.

The U. S. Wholesale Grocers Association reproduced the N.C.A. price story and distributed it as a press release, and The Pennsylvania Packer, organ of the Pennsylvania Canners Association, published the price story to its members in the September issue.

At the meeting of 115 food editors in New York recently, the Can Manufacturers Institute showed its motion picture on canned foods, which summed up with the statement that "it seems likely canned foods in general provide not only the most food per dollar of cost but also offer the best nutritional values from an economic standpoint." This was reported in the New York Herald-Tribune (320,657) by Clementine Paddleford, food editor.

The N.C.A.'s Home Economics Division has made additional distribution of "A Story Worth Repeating!" to 1,500 food editors of metropolitan daily newspapers, food editors of magazines of nation-wide circulation, to radio people for use on consumer programs, and to home economists in consumer service and education.

Also, the National-American Wholesale Grocers Association reproduced "A Story Worth Repeating!" in its bulletin to its membership.

Additional reprints and matrixes were requested by canners and mailed this week. Michigan Mushroom Co., Niles, Mich., and Libby, McNeill & Libby, Chicago, were sent 100 each; Gibbs & Co. was sent 40; and Juice Industries, Inc., Dunedin, Fla., four.

LABOR

SELECTIVE SERVICE ACT OF 1948 ENJOINS EMPLOYERS TO REHIRE PERSONNEL COMPLETING MILITARY SERVICE

The Selective Service Act of 1948. in Section 9, provides rules on separation from the armed forces and the reemployment rights of those who shall have terminated their periods of service. The Bureau of Veterans' Reemployment Rights of the Department of Labor has stated these rules as fol-

"1. In general, the rights of service men and women to be reemployed in the jobs they leave to join the services are similar to those that prevailed under the old Selective Service Act, but with a few important changes.

"2. Reemployment rights are appli-cable to Army, Navy, Air Force, Ma-rine and Coast Guard personnel including members of women's components, now integrated into the regular armed forces. Rights under the new Act do not extend to personnel of the Merchant Marine.

"3. Persons who satisfactorily complete their periods of training or servce are entitled to be restored to their former positions (other than temporary positions) on application for reemployment within 90 days after being relieved from such training or service or from hospitalization continuing after discharge for not more than a year and may not be discharged from such restored position without cause within one year after restora-

"4. The employee must be restored to his former position if he is still qualified to perform the duties thereof or to a position of like seniority, status and pay.

"5. If the employee is not qualified to perform the duties of the position by reason of disability sustained during his term of service or training in the armed forces, then he must be restored to such other position, the duties of which he is qualified to perform, as will provide him like seniority, status and pay or the nearest approximation thereof proximation thereof.

"6. No duty rests on the employer if his circumstances have so changed as to make it impossible or unreasonable to reemploy the employee.

"7. The employee should be restored without loss of seniority and is entitled to participate in insurance or other benefits offered by the employer pur-suant to established rules and practices relating to employees on fur-lough or leave of absence in effect with the employer at the time the employee was inducted.

"8. Reemployment rights are applicable to enlistees and reserve person-nel as well as to persons who may be inducted. Although persons may not be inducted within 90 days after June 24, 1948, the effective date of the new draft act, those voluntarily enlisting or called to active duty subsequent to that date are entitled to reemployment rights and benefits conferred by the Act, subject to certain limitations on length of service.

"9. The Bureau of Veterans' Reemployment Rights in the U.S. Depart-ment of Labor has the responsibility for assistance in connection with re-employment rights under the new draft. This Bureau is currently as-sistig World War II veterans to obtain their former jobs."

Employers, ex-servicemen and others interested may obtain information on reemployment rights from the field or area offices of the Bureau of Veterans' Reemployment Rights, Department of Labor at Boston, New York City, Washington, D. C., Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Atlanta, Cleveland, Detroit, Louisville, Chicago, St. Paul, Kansas City, Denver, Dallas, San Francisco, Los Angeles, and Seattle.

FOREIGN TRADE

Trade Agreements

The second session of the contracting parties to the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade, which opened in Geneva August 16, completed its work September 14, after laying plans designed to increase further the value of the Agreement to the countries already parties, including the United States, and to enable more countries to become parties.

The major accomplisment of the meeting, the State Department reports, is adoption of procedures for bringing additional countries into the Agreement. Requests for concessions are to be exchanged between the present parties and the new countries by January 15, 1949. Negotiations are scheduled to begin at Geneva, April 11, 1949. The new countries which will negotiate are Denmark, Dominican Republic, El Salvador, Finland, Greece, Haiti, Italy, Nicaragua, Peru, Sweden, and Uruguay.

A substantial number of countries agreed to extend to western Germany most-favored-nation treatment with respect to merchandise trade on a reciprocal basis.

State Secretaries to Meet

The annual fall meeting of the State Secretaries will be held Wednesday, November 10, in the Palmer House, Chicago, according to an announce-ment by W. H. Sherman, secretarytreasurer of the Association of Canners State and Regional Secretaries.

CONVENTION

Invitation to 1949 Convention

Another move in the direction of promotion of the 1949 Canners Convention was made recently by the Canning Machinery and Supplies Association when it issued to its membership supplies of invitations which will be presented to canners by supplymen and will be used later to register canners, brokers, wholesalers and retailers at the Convention.

On receipt of the completed registration card, the CM&SA will make out a Canners Badge, put it in an envelope with a copy of the program, and send a postcard to the Canner telling him that his badge will be ready for him when he arrives and tell him where to call for it.

Canned Foods Merchandising

a convincing presentation that is practical, down-to-earth, and arresting, in order to overcome what many persons have felt to be a weakness of merchandising presentations; namely, that too frequently they result in common generalities.

Announcement of the speakers assigned by the various groups will be made as soon as the selections have been reported to the Association. Other details of the Convention program will be made as promptly as they are finalized.

PERSONNEL

Charles R. Carry Elected

Charles R. Carry, Director of the Association's Fishery Products Division, was elected to the post of Division Vice President for Commercial Fishing at the 78th annual meeting of the American Fisheries Society in Atlantic City, N. J., September 13-16.

Dr. Mahoney Honored

Dr. Charles H. Mahoney, Director of the Association's Raw Products Bureau, recently was elected to chairmanships in two scientific organizations.

He was chosen general chairman of the National Joint Committee on Fertilizer Application. A. L. Lang, Illinois Agricultural Experiment Station, was elected vice chairman, and Dr. Malcolm H. McVickar general sec-

Dr. Mahoney also was elected chairman of the processing section of the American Society for Horticultural Science.

Many of the requests come in the form of coupons from teachers who have seen notices of educational materials in professional magazines. Others write special requests such as those received from city or state supervisors of Home Economics who send lists of the teachers, asking that N.C.A. send them canned foods lesson materials. Among the month's requests received were some from Home Service Departments of Utilities saying that the fall demonstrations and classes were beginning and asking for material about canned foods to be included.

There is a steady request for recipes to use in school lunch rooms and for group feeding services. Among the requests received in September for the regular quantity recipe book using canned foods was one from a city restaurant association requesting copies for members, and one from the dean of students of a large university requesting copies for use in 75 food units such as dining halls, dormitories, fratanities and sororities.

STATISTICS

Red Pitted Cherry Pack

The 1948 pack of canned red pitted cherries totaled 3,552,210 actual cases, 48 percent more than the 1947, pack of 2,396,834 cases, the Association's Division of Statistics reports.
